

12.30–1.30pm Lunch (provided) and poster session

Yury Makarov (University of Cambridge)

Reanalysing Shughni morphophonemic alternations from a synchronic perspective

Naijing Liu (University of Oxford)

Verbal morphology in a tonal language: a case of Tsum, Tibeto-Burman language

Qizhu Zhao (University of Nottingham)

International Chinese Students' Attitudes towards English and their usage of English at British Universities

Sam Nartus (University of Essex)

They, dey, iel, elle: Towards a post-binary signifying economy

Megan Bushnell (University of Oxford)

Lexical Doubling and Linguistic Nationalism in Gavin Douglas's Eneados

1.30pm Anna Kuritsyna (SOAS University of London)

Suspended Affixation in the languages of the 1st-millennium Tarim basin

1.45pm Ylenia Adriana Invernizzi (University of Bergamo)

Toward a uniform dataset for Ancient Greek prose: Strategies for morphosyntactic harmonization, lemmatization, and PoS tagging

2pm Matteo Macciò (Humboldt University of Berlin)

Bright marbles, glittering water and twinkling eyes

2.15pm Tamar Guchua (Akaki Tsereteli State University)

Water-related Metaphors in Georgian Political Language: A Cross-cultural Perspective

2.30pm Lin Shen (University of Cambridge)

Parliamentary Englishes: Register Variation across National and International Institutional Contexts

2.45pm Lucy Snowdon (University of Oxford)

Sociolinguistic factors conditioning morphosyntactic variation and change in Old English

3pm Louis-Geoffrey Gousset (Queen Mary University of London)

Connections and coherence: Bipartite networks of acceptability judgments in Scots

3.15 pm Alessandro Basile (Université Sorbonne Nouvelle)

Modal necessity under contact: The case of Singapore English

3.30–3.45pm Wrapping up

3.45–4.15pm Tea and coffee

4.15pm PhilSoc meeting: Dr Guyanne Wilson (UCL)

6.30 onwards Dinner at a local restaurant for early career event attendees